

Introducing Lambert

The Lambert Difference

Lambert offers consultants and services that meet the business and technology needs of the today's business environments. Lambert prides itself on providing highly qualified and experienced consultants to deliver the quality expected by our customers. Our management, technical and quality assurance consultants have the skills to deliver the solution your organization needs.

Lambert offers the following areas of expertise:

Management and Business Consulting

- Program Management
- Project Management
- Business Analysis
- Quality Assurance design and management

Business Rule and Process Consulting

- Business Rule Approach Implementation
- Business Rule Design and Analysis
- Business Rule Engine selection and implementation
- Business Process Management

Information Technology Consulting

- Enterprise Architecture
- Database Management
- Data Warehousing
- Application development

Lambert Management and Business Consulting provides experienced professionals to serve as leaders or to work within your organization on blended teams. Our senior consultants bring the leadership, communication and professional skills required to ensure success. In addition to program and project management our expertise includes assessment/gap analysis, process improvement, change management, systems validation/verification, and business process re-engineering. The Quality Assurance group's expertise spans the entire testing lifecycle, from planning through execution and evaluation. Lambert offers comprehensive leadership and guidance in setting up an effective QA organization, total quality programs,

Lambert Business Rule and Process Consulting focuses on sustainable business rules management, enterprise rules technology and rules architecture. We provide an agile approach to the implementation of applications and solutions using analysis and design methodologies based on a Business Rules Approach as well as experienced technical resources to implement you Business Rules in a Business Rules Engine. In partnership with Knowledge Partners, Inc (KPI) Lambert offers training and licensing of the KPI STEP™ Methodology. The KPI STEP™ license program offers options including training, labs and tools to facilitate implementing a business rules approach in your organization.

Lambert Technology Consulting combines service excellence with technological expertise to provide clients with immediate, professional consulting support in order to achieve their goals. Lambert consultants have experience on a wide range of technical environments and diverse applications.

Experience IT; the Lambert Consulting Difference